Report

The Department of Computer Science (Entire)-III conducted on 20-August-2024, at 11:00 AM. Mr. R. P. Waghmare, Head Department of Computer Science (Entire), all faculty members and B.Sc III students were present.

Objectives of the program:

1. To improve Technical Skills Development
2. To Understanding of Full Stack Architecture
3. To Provide Version Control Expertis
4. To Empower Best Practices in Development

The primary objective of the "One-Day Workshop on Java Full Stack Development and GitHub" was to equip participating students with essential skills and knowledge in full stack development, enhancing their proficiency in building modern web applications. Facilitated by Mr. R. K. Shaikh, Assistant Professor and an expert in the field, the workshop provided a unique opportunity for attendees to explore both front-end and back-end technologies.

Throughout the session, participants engaged in hands-on coding exercises, allowing them to apply their learning in real-time by developing a simple full stack application. Mr. Shaikh shared valuable insights on version control using Git and GitHub, empowering students to manage their code effectively and collaborate efficiently on projects. With Mr. R. P. Waghmare, Head of the Computer Science Department, as the Chief guest, the workshop also highlighted the significance of technological skills in today's job market, inspiring participants to pursue their passion for development. By the end of the workshop, students emerged with enhanced technical abilities and a deeper understanding of the full stack development process.

Outcomes of the program:

Upon conclusion of this session, participants will be able to:

1. Comprehensive Understanding of Full Stack Development
2. Enhanced Creative Problem-Solving Skills
3. Enhanced Version Control Skills
4. Hands-On Experience
